OBJECTIVE

I'm a fourth-year student and I've completed all the courses at my university. Currently, I'm looking for an internship to apply the knowledge I've gained in practice. I started with frontend development, writing code on Visual Studio Code, Eclipse, etc., to create e-commerce websites and entertainment websites based on the MVC model. Then, I transitioned to developing mobile apps, including social networking and management apps. Finally, I shifted to backend development and chose to work on the .NET platform. Present, I have a certain level of knowledge to create a simple project, and I'm actively learning to further develop my skills. I'm looking for like-minded individuals to grow together, to learn step by step, and to achieve success through mutual effort.
